Quality Assurance & Warranties:

FAR 12.105, (a) Quality assurance. To the maximum extent practicable, allow a contractor under a commercial products acquisition to use its existing quality assurance system to inspect or test commercial products before the contractor presents the products to the Government for acceptance. Rely on the contractor to accomplish all inspection and testing needed to ensure that commercial services conform to contract requirements before the contractor presents the services to the Government.

(b) Warranties. To the maximum extent practicable, take advantage of commercial warranties, including extended warranties, and use those warranties for the repair and replacement of commercial products and commercial services.

Part IV: Evaluation & Award

1. Evaluation Process:

The Government will evaluate quotations in an efficient and minimally burdensome fashion. The evaluation is not subject to formal FAR Part 14 or 15 procedures. The Government may perform a comparative evaluation of quotations

2. Basis for Award:

Award will be made to the responsible quoter whose quotation offers the best value to the Government based upon the following evaluation factors:

Low price responsible offer

Technical and Past Performance, when combined, are none.

3. Legal Effect of Quotation: A quotation is not a binding offer, the purchase order issued by the Government is an offer to buy. A binding contract is formed when the supplier accepts the Government's offer via written acceptance or substantial performance of the order
