Accounting for Classified:

As indicated in the 32 CFR part 117, contractors authorized for safeguarding shall establish an information management system to protect and control the classified information in their possession. Contractors shall ensure that classified information in their custody is used or retained only for a lawful and authorized U.S. Government purpose. The U.S. Government reserves the right to retrieve its classified material or to cause appropriate disposition of the material by the contractor. The information management system employed by the contractor shall be capable of facilitating such retrieval and disposition in a reasonable period of time. Authorized NGA personnel may request and receive a listing from the contractor's information system of all classified entrusted to the contractor from NGA or in connection to this contract for NGA. Authorized personnel consist of NGA program personnel for the contract and personnel from NGA Security. If there is any doubt if the person is authorized access, clarification will be made by Industrial Security or the contracting officer of record.

Retention of classified after the period of performance is only authorized long enough to properly close out the contract and properly dispose of classified as directed by the contracting officer or representative. The manner of disposing of classified shall adhere to the 32 CFR part 117. A copy of the certification of disposition by the contractor of government furnished property and information shall be provided to Industrial Security if classified was released to the safekeeping of the contractor.

Classification Guidance:

Access to specific classification guides for this program will be provided by the program office or COR on this effort directly to the contractor.

With the type of environment NGA operates in, the contractor may be exposed to other NGA programs or classified information not associated with this contract or the information may not be referenced in the program classification guides but may be referenced in the Consolidated NGA Security Classification Guide (CoNGA SCG). The contractor program manager or contractor security office can request access to the guides from the NGA program office who will provide links to the requested security guides. Current security guides can also be found on JWICS

E-Nomination Portal:

NGA Contractor SCI nomination process is completed within a web-based portal known as the e-Nomination portal. To gain access to the e-Nomination portal the prime contractor shall delegate a security professional to make the nominations. The number of personnel assigned to make nominations is limited per the COR. For technical issues the prime contractor will need to contact the e-Nomination support team via e-mail. The following information of the security professional shall be provided to the COR to generate an e-Nomination account.

1. Full Name

2. Primary e-mail address

3. Alternate e-mail address: in case the primary e-mail address holder is not available. It is recommended that this be a group e-mail box or distribution list.

4. Physical Address

Once a nomination is submitted, the e-Nomination portal assigns an e-Nomination Number to the submission. In an effort to provide better OPSEC and protect personal identification information when corresponding via unsecure means (encrypted e-mail authorized) the prime contractor is not authorized to pair the nominated individual's name with the assigned e-Nomination number. If the prime contractor misplaces their copy of nomination personnel and e-Nomination numbers list, the prime contractor security office shall contact the COR for assistance. NGA Industrial Security and NGA Personnel Security may be contacted for assistance if the COR is not available. Only a limited number of personnel in these offices have access to this information and may not be available for assistance at the time of call.

Foreign Travel:

Contractors with SCI access, conducting official or unofficial travel outside the Continental United States shall enter travel details into PeopleSoft 30 days prior to the trip. Upon reentry into the Continental United States, the individual has 10 calendar days to complete post travel forms located in PeopleSoft. If the contract personnel will no longer be supporting NGA via an NGA contract the CAC shall be turned in to the NGA Site CAC Office, the Trusted Agent or the COR. If contract personnel are unable to contact the Trusted Agent or return the CAC, it is the contractor security office's responsibility to collect the CAC from the individual and notify and seek further direction from the COR and Industrial Security the same day.

To obtain this service the contractor security office needs to contact personnel security to establish a monthly reoccurring appointment. The other method is via e-mail. The e-mail status check will provide at what stage the nomination is in such as awaiting COR approval, adjudication action or awaiting additional information. The e-mail status is done bi-weekly. The subject of the e-mail shall be "Status Check". Multiple nominations can be checked with one e-mail request however the list of personnel must be placed in an Excel compatible document.
