PART I - THE SCHEDULE
SECTION B
SUPPLIES OR SERVICES AND PRICES/COSTS

If potential quantity ranges would provide price breaks, then the contractor should submit an offer with quantity ranges that yield the best prices to the Government including at a minimum the current required line item quantity of (1) each. See FAR clause 52.207-4. FMS reserves the right to decline any quantity amount, including the current requirement, at any time before award for any reason including the offered unit price.

UID REQUIREMENT: The Government does not intend to tell contractors the specific data to be put into each mark. International Standards and MIL-STD-130 provide the guidance needed by the contractor to determine what information is required within the mark and acceptable formats for applying the mark. It is the contractor's discretion on which UID construct to use according to current business practices. Still, "The preferred format for Unique Identification (UID) is Construct 2 (Issuing Agency Code, Enterprise Identification [CAGE Code], Original Part Number, and Serial Number) as set forth by MIL-STD-130N (or later revision) and the DOD Guide to Uniquely Identifying Items, version 3.0, December 2014 (or later revision). UID shall be in addition to the original Human Readable Information and applied using comparable marking methods. Application of UID markings shall in no way compromise item integrity."

Inspection & Acceptance Receiving Reports shall be submitted using Wide Area Workflow (WAWF).
