	Answer #1: Sources sought for Buy Indian was completed in March, but there were no qualified applicants that responded. Question #2: Will there be any scoring preference for Indian Small Businesses? Answer #2: All small businesses will be scored equally. Question #3: Can the Government please clarify if the pricing must be on the Offeror's SF 1449 blocks 23 and 24 or should it be submitted in Factor 4. Price volume? Answer #3: Please complete the SF 1449 as instructed. Question #4: Can the Government please confirm if there are any Service Level Agreements (SLA), Performance Requirements Summary (PRS) or other specific performance requirements in addition to the 99% system uptime that the offeror will be expected to meet? Answer #4: These are listed in the SOW; please refer to the SOW. Question #5: Can the Government please clarify the requirement for "Completion of patient record"? We could not find this requirement on the RFP. Answer #5: The contractor is responsible for supporting RPMS and ensuring patient records are accurate and complete. Question #6: Can the Government please clarify the meaning of "prompt and continuous coverage"? Is this related to staffing at 24/7/365 or systems availability? Is there a specific metric that defines "Prompt"? Answer #6: System availability, with on-call support to ensure system uptime. Question #7: Can the Government please clarify the meaning of "credentialing"? Is this regarding obtaining IHS credentialling (C-7. Personnel Qualifications) or managing user access to systems within the scope of this contact? Answer #7: This is in regard to the Background Investigation. Question #17: Can the Government clarify: 1) if this requirement must be met at time of RFP submission, and 2) how long does it take to receive the appropriate IHS credentials? Answer #17: It will be processed upon award; the timeline depends on the individual's criminal history and creditworthiness. Question #18: Can the Government please clarify how many full-time positions are being requested? Answer #18: 2 (which can be a combination of multiple part-time FTE) and a project to add the Billings area to our CUCM, with start and end dates (this is over and above the 2 FTE). Question #19: Can the Government provide workload indicators? Answer #19: This question is unclear. Question #20: Is the reference to "Subcontractor" a typo and it should be the Contractor? Answer #20: Subcontracting is allowed. Question #21: Will the Government please clarify if this is a new or existing requirement? Answer #21: This is an existing requirement. Question #22: If this is an existing requirement, please provide the current/incumbent contract number? Answer #22: 75H70621F80098. Question #23: If this is an existing requirement, will there be a transition period? Answer #23: We have Federal staff who can train and transition. Question #24: Can the Government please clarify in which volume should the representations and certifications be submitted? Answer #24: Submit these in PDF with the proposal. 	Question #26: Can the Government clarify the maturity of its Change Control and release management processes? Does a Configuration Change Board (CCB) exist and do all releases follow a standard approach? Answer #26: This is a national process, and yes. Question #27: Can the Government provide workload indicators so that all bidders are solutioning and pricing to the same baseline? Answer #27: Most of this is a helpdesk that is handled by Federal staff in collaboration with the vendor. Patches and releases are handled by the contractor in coordination with the sites during off-hours. Question #28: Can the Government please provide information on Authority to Operate (ATO) status of supported systems to include the extent and impact of any waivers? Answer #28: NA VistA/RPMS is a system used by VA and IHS. Question #29: Can the Government please provide their overall lifecycle management approach to include any industry standards being used (e.g., ITIL) and any requirements management processes and tools? Answer #29: This is NA to this bid; our national office manages CCB and releases, we simply install them and provide technical support. Question #30: Can the Government please provide details on the maturity and type of user self-help capabilities? Answer #30: We use Service Now and a Knowledge Base for the end users. Question #31: Can the Government please provide details on the maturity level of Knowledge Base (KB) materials available to the successful contractor? Answer #31: We have Service Now and a Knowledge Base for approximately 5 years now, but have several resources that have been developed prior to and maintained throughout the years. 	dashboards, and other situational awareness information is available to the bidder? Answer #32: NA to this contract. Question #33: Can the Government please provide details on the Configuration Management Database (CMBD) to include maturity level and quality of content? Answer #33: NA to this contract. Question #34: Should offerors assume a standard level of effort (e.g., 2,080 hours annually) for each FTE? Answer #34: The level of effort is approximately 2080 hours annually, but this varies based on tickets, patches, and deadlines. It is not a standard 40 hours a week. Question #35: Is it acceptable for offerors to propose a blended staffing model (e.g., multiple part-time specialists contributing to the required level of effort) rather than a single dedicated individual? Answer #35: A blended staffing model is acceptable. There is more than 1 work service required; the FTE equivalent for RPMS/IRIS/AIX is a separate task/line item of work on the contract from the Cisco UC engineer, essentially 2 separate FTEs or equivalent for 2 separate workstreams/projects are required. There is also a 3rd project, over and above the 2 FTE, for a small project to integrate Billings phones into our Call Manager, with start and stop upon project completion. Question #36: Will a proposal be considered technically acceptable if it demonstrates the ability to meet all functional requirements using a blended or distributed staffing model within the defined FTE level of effort? Or does the Government expect dedicated personnel for each identified specialty regardless of the FTE pricing structure? Answer #36: Blended is fine, but the level of effort must be met and must not overlap. The government must clearly delineate lines of work that are billed separately for each of the 3 tasks required. Question #37: I am not completely clear on Continued ...

	whether Respec Company will provide the following service or not. Can you please clarify? RPMS/IRIS Team: 4- 5 personnel experienced in AIX, IRIS, and RPMS administration. Answer #37: The Vendor that responds and is awarded the bid will be required to provide 24/7 support with personnel experienced in AIX, IRIS, and RPMS administration. Question #38: Is Past Performance with Federal Government Agencies Required for this Solicitation/Work? Answer #38: Yes, past performance is required. Question #39. Is the Government considering a small business set-aside for the resultant contract, or has any determination been made regarding whether this acquisition may be reserved for 8(a)participants or other socioeconomic categories under FAR Part 19? Answer #39: All bidders are considered if they meet the qualifications and past performance. Question #40. Will the Government consider past performance from vendors who have supported IT operations within HHS or other federal health agencies as demonstrating relevant experience for this requirement, even where the prior work was not specifically in an IHS environment? Answer #40: Yes, but there must be MUMPS programming and VistA/RPMS experience. Question #41. The notice references IT Support Services as a commercial item purchase. Can the Government confirm whether the anticipated scope includes any custom development or integration work, or is the intent limited to commercially available support services with no significant tailoring? Answer #41: *The IHS environment is unique, and there are customizations. Question #42. What are the primary IT systems and infrastructure components currently in use at the GreatPlains Area OIT that contractors will be expected to support - for example, end-user computing environments, remote access platforms, ticketing systems, or network infrastructure? Answer #42: Windows, Nutanix, AIX, ServiceNow, Aruba, Cisco, VistA, RPMS, Teams, Webex, F5 VPN, Continued ...

	PaloAlto Global Protect. Question #43. Will the resultant contract require on-site presence at the Aberdeen, South Dakota, facility, or will the Government consider hybrid or primarily remote delivery models for routine support functions, with on-site visits as needed? Answer #43: Support can be done remotely via VPN. Question #44. Are there specific performance standards or service level expectations the Government intends to include in the solicitation - such as helpdesk response times, system availability targets, or ticket resolution thresholds - that vendors should be prepared to address in their proposals? Answer #44: These are listed in the SOW. Question #45: Will the Government weigh relevant federal healthcare IT experience - including support for clinical or administrative systems in distributed, multi-site health environments - as a differentiating factor in its evaluation criteria? Answer #45: *This is strictly for clinical systems i.e. electronic health records. Question #46: Is there an incumbent contractor currently performing these services, and if so, will the Government provide a transition period or phase-in schedule to ensure continuity of IT support operations for the Great Plains Area OIT? Answer #46: Yes, there is an incumbent; we have Federal Staff to help with training/phase-in. Question #47: Does the Government anticipate including options for low-code automation or process improvement tooling within the scope of IT support, or is the requirement strictly limited to break-fix and helpdesk-style support functions? Answer #47: Process Improvements will be explored and appreciated, but most of the need is testing, patching, helpdesk, and break/fix. Question #48: Can the Government clarify the expected labor mix and level of effort across Cisco UC engineering, RPMS/AIX/IRIS support, and project management functions? 	Separate roles (AIX/RPMS/IRIS) and (CISCO UC) along with another roles perform the project to incorporate Billings into the Great Plains call manager. These can be a combination of FTEs to make the equivalent of FTE. Question #49: Is the Government expecting simultaneous coverage across all functional areas, or task-based/on-demand support across specialties? Answer #49: Yes. Question #50: Can the Government provide historical ticket data, including distribution by category, priority, and average resolution time? Answer #50: This is not something we are current prepared to do, we would have to request a report from Service Now with custom reporting. Tickets range from patching, performance issues, networking, Operating system issues to configuration issues. Question #51: What is the anticipated workload split between Cisco UC support and RPMS/EHR support? Answer #51: These are 2 separate FTE roles ? they are separate functional areas. Question #52: Can the Government provide a current inventory and architecture overview of the Cisco UC environment (e.g., number of clusters, endpoints, Webex tenants)? Answer #52: We have about 400 Video units, 2500 phones, and 1 webex tenant, we are working to become 1 agency phone system in the cloud. This role supports that migration along with other contract and federal staff. Question #53: Are there any known performance or interoperability issues that the contractor should be aware of at contract start? Question #56: What tools are currently in use for system monitoring, ticketing, and patch management? Answer #56: Service Now. Question #57: Can the Government provide network diagrams and site topology for the current environment? Answer #57: Upon award, yes (this would require a signed Business Associate Agreement aka BAA). Question #58: What is the expected migration approach and timeline (e.g., phased vs. consolidated)? Answer #58: Work to begin upon award, and project to be completed within 12 months or less. Question #59: Will Government personnel or SMEs be available to support cutover activities? Answer #59: Yes. Question #60: The SOW references a 99% uptime requirement for RPMS systems. Can the Government clarify how uptime is defined and measured, including applicable service windows? Answer #60: RPMS must remain available to hospitals and clinics unless there is a planned outage. Question #61: Are there defined response and resolution SLAs for Tier 2 and critical incidents? Answer #61: Initial responses must be within an hour, along with categorization of the issue. Question #62: Can the Government provide an estimated frequency of on-site support requirements across the 19 facilities? Answer #62: No more than 1 time per year.
