Questions and Answers
	Question	FDIC's Response
1	Some serial numbers are missing from the pricing schedule you provided. Kindly share the missing serial numbers, as they are required to proceed with pricing.	All serial numbers have been added. See Amended Attachment B1.
2	Flex Credit Notes: - FDIC is overutilizing credit pool id 5818474630 and is currently using 1330.36 credits out of their 1383. If FDIC downgrades to 1310 they will not have enough to spin up their current configs after they renew. NGFW Notes: 19901002932 looks like its tied to an RMA but I cannot locate the replacement, so this serial is not on the quote 019901002911 is duplicated - see column I for details 016201020428 - GP is on the spreadsheet with no support. Added both support and GP to the quote 015701000557 RMA replaced with SN 015701002012 which is on quote 024209000689 & 024209000684 auth code not applied on support. ATP is not on the spreadsheet. I added it to the quote but cannot add support until it's registered - Anything left in blue that is not called out in column I is not on the quote since there is no serial numbers provided - the support is not registered for 026109000620 & 026109000622	See Amended Attachment B1. All updates have been made. Changes are reflected in yellow and Serial number replacements are in red.
3	I was reviewing pricing from the bid and Palo Alto today, I noticed a few line items that are backdated over 5 years. I wanted to check with you to see if the FDIC technical team would like to RNW the following Serial numbers? 1. Line 126, SN: 012501004840. The List price for 1yr to 6/30/27 would be $327,737.86 for backdating support from 10/27/2020 2. Line 127, SN: 012501008123. The List price for 1yr to 6/30/27 would be $327,737.86 for backdating support from 10/27/2020 3. Line 132, SN: 017607001762. The List price for 1yr to 6/30/27 would be $58,496 for backdating support from 10/27/2020	The FDIC has always had support for these Palo Alto items. None of the line items are back dated. Please see the POP column of Attachment B and updates to the serial numbers.
4	Is this a 3-year billed annually or 3-years billed up front?	The FDIC requests a 3-year Enterprise Agreement (EA) that will be billed annually. The resulting contract will have a 3 year period of performance guarantee, as long as all terms and conditions are followed and service continues, payment will be released annually. The Option periods have been removed from the requirement. NOTE: Line items 137-139 & 141 have different Period of Performances.
5	There are a large number of SKUs in the attached spreadsheet. Do you need quotes for all of them or specific ones? If quotes are required only for specific SKUs from the sheet, please provide call them out.	The FDIC requests pricing for all line items. All line items that can be covered in the EA should be, any line item that CAN NOT be covered in the EA should also be priced and noted as such in Attachment B1. Please note the line items have been truncated as option periods have been removed from the requirement. The resulting award will be a 3-year period of performance.
6	All these seem to be renewal items. This means that the original items were purchased already and need to be renewed. We would need to know the current vendor that FDIC uses. Do you know who the incumbent vendor is for FDIC?	The incumbent vendor is FCN, Inc.
7	For Line Item 136, the auth code not applied on support/ ATP not on this list. Does FDIC want it included?	Yes, we wanted both serial numbers to be included as they are registered in the portal.
