

C.1 BACKGROUND

The Military and Family Life Counseling (MFLC) program was created in 2004 by the Office of Military Community and Family Policy (MC&FP) to facilitate private and confidential non-medical counseling services. The program began with 24 Military and Family Life Counselors (MFLCs) supporting an Army unit in Europe. In 2007, DoW established the Child and Youth Behavioral (CYB) MFLC Program to provide non-medical counseling to military service members' dependents within installation and public schools, child and youth development centers, and child-oriented programs they attend (e.g., summer camps). The MFLC Program currently deploys more than 2,500 licensed counselors to military installations throughout the United States (U.S.) and in more than 25 foreign countries, providing confidential counseling, outreach, and educational resources that foster wellness and resilience within the military community.

Throughout this Performance Work Statement (PWS), the term “MFLC(s)” refers to the actual contractor counselor; “MFLC services” refers to the MFLC Program model of delivery (i.e., counseling, consultation, and outreach); “Point of Contact (POC)” means a Government POC; and “MFLC Program Manager (PM)” means the MFLC Government PM or their designated representative from the MFLC Program Management Office (PMO). “Non-medical counseling” has been updated to “counseling” to reflect terminology changes within Military Community and Family Policy (MC&FP). The standardized use of “counseling” is intended to reduce confusion among eligible participants.

C.1.1 PURPOSE

The purpose of this requirement is to provide the MFLC Program with confidential counseling, consultation, outreach, and program management services that support the readiness, resilience, and well-being of eligible military service members, their families, and survivors. Through a proactive and embedded service delivery model, licensed counselors will provide accessible preventative support that help eligible military service members and their families address the unique challenges associated with military life. These services are intended to reduce barriers to seeking counseling, promote early problem resolution, and strengthen the overall resilience of the military community.

C.1.2 AGENCY MISSION

The mission of the Office of MC&FP is to contribute to force readiness and quality of life by providing policies and programs, such as the MFLC program, that advance the well-being of service members, their families, survivors, and other eligible members of the military community.

C.2 SCOPE

The contractor shall provide confidential counseling, consultation, walk-around service, and outreach services to all eligible participants of the MFLC Program. Walk-around support is defined as the MFLC being present and interacting with participants in their environment, ensuring high visibility and easy accessibility. Examples of these locations include unit headquarters, schools, camps, or Child Development Centers (CDCs). The contractor shall provide services through in-person, face-to-face delivery methods, with virtual counseling capabilities when required by the Government. The MFLC Program place of performance covers more than 300 military installations in most of the 50 states, the District of Columbia (D.C.), U.S. territories and commonwealths, and over 25 foreign countries, including areas considered hazardous duty/danger zones.

The contractor shall provide all services under the scope of this contract within its awarded footprint area of responsibility, which will be the Eastern Geographic footprint, the Western Geographic footprint, or both. The Eastern Geographic Footprint consists of Continental United States (CONUS) locations east of the Mississippi River and Outside the Continental United States (OCONUS) locations in the Africa Command (AFRICOM), European Command (EUCOM), and Southern Command (SOUTHCOM). CONUS is defined as the 48 continental states, and OCONUS is defined as all locations outside the 48 continental states and includes Alaska and Hawaii. The Western Geographic Footprint consists of CONUS locations west of the Mississippi River and the OCONUS Indo-Pacific Command (INDOPACOM) and Central Command (CENTCOM). If the contractor is awarded only the Eastern Geographic Footprint or the Western Geographic Footprint, it shall also provide services for the opposite footprint under Task 4 or Task 5, if exercised.

MFLCs are required to address the counseling needs of eligible participants based on the specific emergent needs of each DoW service branch at CONUS and OCONUS locations. All MFLCs shall be credentialed or licensed to provide MFLC services. Additionally, the contractor shall ensure that CYB MFLCs supporting environments with children of all ages have the appropriate consultation skills, as described in section C.5.2.2., to provide support to staff and parents.

Traditional MFLC services are where MFLCs schedule in-person counseling sessions at either their office location or where participants are located. Non-traditional MFLC services are where the MFLCs are either embedded into the participants' environments or proactively engaging participants, making the MFLCs easily accessible and approachable. If a client approaches an MFLC for non-traditional counseling, a private location must be found to ensure confidentiality. Non-traditional counseling is vital to the MFLC Program because emerging needs within assignment locations are consistently changing. As a result, MFLCs shall be flexible as their work/assignment location may fluctuate when needs decrease in one assigned location and/or increase in other assigned locations. Regardless of the method utilized to initiate sessions, an MFLC activity is considered to occur when the MFLC engages a participant, determines the participant is in need of counseling, and provides the participant with the Limits of Confidentiality Statement.

C.3 CURRENT ENVIRONMENT

To optimize the delivery of services and foster positive outcomes for program participants, installations, and communities, MFLC assignments for primary support services shall maintain their presence within assigned locations for a minimum of 12 months with the exception of school assignments which may be for only nine months. Beyond this initial period, MFLCs may continue their presence in assigned locations to build rapport and provide sustained continuity of care. Requests for MFLC and CYB MFLC support are processed through a Government-owned Information Technology (IT) system. Once approved by MC&FP, a Staffing Assignment Direction Letter (SADL) is issued to the contractor. This SADL contains all necessary assignment information, including the location, start date, end date, etc. MFLC services are confidential, with the exception of domestic violence, child abuse/neglect, problematic sexual behavior in children and youth, suicidal or homicidal threats, illegal activity, or other threats of harm to self or others. The contractor shall perform Duty to Warn (DTW) through applicable policies in these situations. The reporting procedures and applicable DoW Instructions (DoDIs) are provided at the following website: www.esd.whs.mil/Directives/issuances/dodi/. Additional reporting protocols are both location- and type-specific. The local POCs will advise on location-specific reporting protocols.

The contractor shall maintain maximum flexibility in MFLC deployment and service delivery to respond to evolving installation needs. Flexibility in resource deployment and service delivery methods is paramount to program success. The contractor shall expect and prepare for frequent realignment of MFLC resources based on fluctuating demand patterns across installations and service populations. Currently, all MFLCs are assigned to either Adult or CYB populations and provide all MFLC services on a primary or temporary basis to include counseling, consulting, outreach, developing program materials, and participating in pilot initiatives.

Traditional and non-traditional MFLC counseling services are required. Types of sessions include group, couples, and family within and outside the assignment location. MFLC services provided to military children and youth of all ages include collaboration and consultation with teachers, parents, and administrators to strengthen and increase the child's/youth's capacity for healthy development. These sessions may vary in location and duration, ranging from a few minutes to an hour or longer. Counseling and consultation (e.g., working with parents of children who are receiving services, working with parents of non-verbal children, discussions with stakeholders on issues impacting units) and outreach services provided address issues that occur across the military life cycle and help service members and their families cope with the uniqueness of military life, as well as the specific stressors and adverse situations that can arise. Additionally, MFLCs serving adult populations can provide valuable consultation to commanders and service providers while protecting the program's hallmark of confidentiality. On an annual basis, eligible participants may receive up to 12 counseling sessions per person, per issue. Eligible participants are defined in Section C.3.5. These services aid in the prevention or reduction of the effects of stressors that may detract from military and family readiness. Furthermore, the MFLC services are intended to augment, not replace, other DoW support services/programs or staff available for eligible participants.

For certain assignments (e.g., Florida, California, Puerto Rico, and Texas), the contractor shall provide MFLCs who are fluent in Spanish to effectively counsel adults and children. Spanish speakers may also be required for Adult MFLCs when providing services to service members' dependents.

MFLC services are grounded in a preventative model, in which the knowledge and skills provided by the MFLCs strengthen the readiness and resilience of service members and their families by reducing the stresses/stressors of the military life cycle. Ideally, these MFLC services will assist in preventing any escalation to a clinically harmful level, which would then require a hand-off to more appropriate services. Service members and their families benefit from timely services in order to alleviate stressors, such as the painful and long-term effects of deployment stress.

MFLCs should take into consideration the unique nature of the work and recognize that mission requirements may necessitate work outside normal hours, including work on Federal holidays.

SECTION C – PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

Appointments, meetings, and briefings may extend beyond typical work hours and may include holidays, evenings, and weekends. In these situations, work hours may be adjusted to accommodate the workload. The Government anticipates that the MFLC daily activity reflects an average minimum of six hours daily of counseling and consultation and two hours daily of outreach and administrative support activities during the course of an eight-hour day.

MFLCs shall be available by telephone to enable participants to schedule an appointment for MFLC services, follow up on referrals, and facilitate coordination (e.g., fulfillment of a SADL logistics) with installation POCs. Utilization of telephones shall not be misconstrued as a crisis or emergency line, or a means/mode to conduct a counseling session. The contractor shall ensure that all MFLCs' telephones have a consistent recorded voice mail message that includes an instruction for callers to dial 911 in the event of an emergency, a referral to Military OneSource for immediate support, and a referral to the Military Crisis Line for crisis support, as needed. Phone lines assigned for the assignment shall always stay the same, even if a counselor rotates out of an assignment.

Outreach services may include consultation with a commander or with another provider or staff (e.g., Family Center Director, chaplain, Principal, School Liaison Officer, teacher, Camp Director) about how to enhance resiliency, conduct briefings and presentations, or provide referral resources to a participant outside the context of a counseling session.

MFLCs shall not physically enter an eligible participant's home at any time without prior approval by the MFLC PM.

MFLCs shall verify the participant's eligibility for services, which may include requesting to view a military identification/Common Access Card (CAC). Eligibility verification shall be conducted at the onset for counseling sessions initiated by appointment and conducted in an office setting.

C.3.1 LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY

The contractor shall ensure that MFLCs provide the Limits of Confidentiality Statement to eligible participant(s) during all counseling sessions prior to providing counseling services in Accordance With (IAW) the DoW policy DoDI No. 6490.06, "Counseling Services for DoD Military, Guard and Reserve, Certain Affiliated Personnel, and their Family Members." The following details shall be included in the limits of confidentiality procedures prior to conducting an MFLC counseling session: a description of the MFLC's role; a description of the scope of services covered with counseling; a focused approach for a short-term solution; the scope of care; and a statement notifying the participant(s) of the MFLC's ability to make appropriate referrals, as needed. MFLCs shall include all mandated reporting requirements for domestic abuse, sexual assault, DTW, and other legal obligations in the Limits of Confidentiality Statement (see DoDI 6400.01, "Family Advocacy Program (FAP);" DoDI 6400.06, "DoD Coordinated Community Response to Domestic Abuse Involving DoD Military and Certain Affiliated Personnel;" DoW Directive (DoDD) 6495.01, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program" or DoDI 6495.02, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures;" DoDI 6400.06, "Domestic Abuse Involving DoD Military and Certain Affiliated Personnel").

SECTION C – PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

At a minimum, the MFLCs shall administer the following Limits of Confidentiality Statement, which may be updated by the MFLC PM as required, for all eligible participants seeking MFLC services prior to starting session(s):

“Information you provide to me or other counselors will be kept confidential, except to meet legal obligations or to prevent harm to self or others. Legal obligations include requirements of law and DoW or military regulations. Harm to self or others include suicidal thoughts or intent, a desire to harm oneself, domestic violence, child abuse or neglect, sexualized behavior in children and youth, and violence against any person, and any present or future illegal activity.”

The contractor shall ensure that all of its personnel maintain the highest degree of sensitivity, compassion, and respect for eligible participants, remaining free of any political bias. The contractor shall ensure consistency of service regardless of installation, location, or any other factor.

If the participant is covered by the Air Force Personnel Reliability Program (PRP), then the MFLC will read the following additional statement to the client, before providing any counseling services:

“As a Personnel Reliability Program (PRP) certified or administrative qualified individual, you are personally responsible for advising your Certifying Official or supervisor of any factors that could have an adverse impact on your performance, reliability, or safety while you are performing PRP duties. This includes factors that impact your physical and mental wellness, your dependability, your personal financial circumstances, or other legal concerns. When you receive any type of medical/dental treatment or evaluation, to include mental health or family related counseling, you are personally responsible for reporting the treatment or evaluation to your Certifying Official and for providing appropriate documentation concerning the treatment or evaluation to the Competent Medical Authority (CMA) at your military treatment facility responsible for consulting with the Certifying Official on this matter. Failure to make these notifications or to provide the appropriate documentation may cast doubt on your reliability and may violate the provisions of DoD Regulation 5210.42 as supplemented by Air Force Manual 10-3902. If you have any questions regarding these requirements you should consult with your Certifying Official for more information.”

In cases where the military chain of command or related medical professional requests MFLC counseling-related information concerning a service member, the MFLC shall remind them of the confidential nature of the MFLC services IAW current and applicable DoDIs and refer them to the MFLC PM for further guidance, if applicable. Additionally, in instances when the chain of command refers service members for MFLC counseling and requests MFLCs report to the referrer, MFLCs shall inform them it is not possible due to the confidential nature of the program. However, MFLCs are encouraged to consult with the military chain of command or related medical professionals on trending issues for service members and families while maintaining confidentiality.

C.3.2 MFLC ASSIGNMENT AND TURNOVER

The contractor shall provide MFLCs as outlined in Section C which are primarily installation based but also includes off-installation schools, recruiting stations, and similar off-base military and civilian facilities detailed in Section J, Attachment TBD.

The contractor shall provide a seamless and transparent transition between the outgoing and incoming MFLCs for both CONUS and OCONUS assignments. During this assignment transition, the outgoing MFLC shall, at a minimum, convey pertinent data such as on-the-ground knowledge of installation POCs and procedures, critical issues, and status of the installation's current MFLC services needs. MFLCs are required to maintain and regularly update a transition notebook containing essential installation-specific information, POCs, and other pertinent resources.

MFLCs assigned to a school shall not remain on the installation and provide services during school recesses/breaks (e.g., Thanksgiving break, winter break, spring and summer breaks), unless approved by the MFLC PM or assigned and approved to a separate camp assignment through the Government-owned IT system. The contractor shall not vacate a CYB MFLC school assignment early to fill a summer camp assignment, which would leave a gap in the school assignment. Conversely, the contractor shall not vacate an MFLC summer camp assignment to fill a school assignment, which would leave a gap in the summer camp assignment, unless approved by the MFLC PM and IAW local and MFLC PM procedures.

C.3.3 OUT-OF-SCOPE HANDOFF AND REPORTING

MFLC services do not include diagnosing mental health disorders, providing long-term care, or offering psychotherapy for conditions that meet criteria in the American Psychiatric Association's Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders. The program specifically excludes counseling for clinical issues such as Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), child abuse, sexual assault, domestic abuse, DTW situations, substance abuse treatment, or other clinical mental health needs. Individuals presenting diagnosable mental health conditions will be referred to appropriate care through military Medical Treatment Facilities (MTFs), TRICARE, or other mental healthcare providers. Eligible individuals may receive concurrent counseling with an MFLC and another relevant agency such as MTFs for preventive support and certain medical concerns. The contract scope also excludes spiritual and religious counseling typically provided by military chaplains.

Should the eligible participant(s) require support outside of the scope of the MFLC services of this contract (as defined in Section C), the contractor shall ensure that MFLCs refer participants to the applicable DoW clinician (e.g., MTF, TRICARE, other civilian medical treatment facility, or chaplain). The MFLC shall abide by the following protocols when facilitating referrals and handoffs to another provider, as well as a DTW and report for these special out-of-scope situations (Section F, Deliverable TBD):

- a. The MFLC Program can provide a source of assistance in addressing issues encountered by military families. However, diagnosis and treatment of medical conditions such as PTSD, TBI, depression, or other medical and mental health disorders are outside the scope of MFLC support. Situations meeting the diagnostic criteria for mental disorders, such as those found in the current edition of the "Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders," are not authorized for support. Participants needing treatment for these conditions shall be referred via a warm hand-off to behavioral health providers, TRICARE, MTFs, or other providers of professional mental health services as appropriate.

- b. The contractor shall implement, document, and maintain standardized DTW procedures IAW DoW/Military Branch of Service regulations, local guidelines, and established protocols to address events where a service or family member reveals a threat of harm to self or others. Imminent risk includes incidents of domestic violence and child abuse.

The contractor shall develop and implement standardized processes and procedures to support the warm hand-off of a participant from an MFLC to other providers and community/DoW resources (e.g., Medical Mental Health providers, Military OneSource, Spouse Education and Career Opportunities (SECO)), ensuring that the participant does not have to repeat information when the third party agency is engaged in the conversation. The contractor shall ensure that the MFLCs complete warm hand-off data fields in MFLC Activity Records – Raw Data File (Section F, Deliverable TBD) elements and reporting requirements to support warm-hand offs. All reporting shall be consistent with the requirements outlined in Section C.5.1.10.

C.3.4 ASSIGNMENT STAFFING TIMELINES

The contractor shall ensure seamless program execution and optimal resource utilization across all installations and service areas. This includes communication and coordination with all other contractors supporting the MFLC Program.

The Government requires an acknowledgement of assignment within one business day after the SADL is issued. The Government requires the following staffing timelines once a SADL is issued:

- a. Acknowledgement of assignment: One business day.
- b. Crisis Events (e.g., suicide, Killed in Action (KIA), natural disaster, Casualty Assistance): 24 hours.
- c. Primary Support: CONUS, 10 business days; OCONUS, 15 business days.
- d. Temporary Support: CONUS, 3 business days; OCONUS, 5 business days.

If the contractor does not meet the specified assignment staffing timelines, it is still expected to continue staffing efforts for the assignment until it is filled without requiring additional Government approval.

C.3.5 MFLC PROGRAM PARTICIPANT ELIGIBILITY

The individuals listed below are eligible to receive MFLC services:

- a. Service members of the Military Services (i.e., Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force, and Space Force) and their immediate family, which includes spouses as defined by 1 U.S. Code (U.S.C.) - f. Youth participants who are in a classroom and/or group setting with other military service members' dependents. The whole classroom, youth group, and/or camp shall receive applicable CYB counseling support even though the group may contain non-military dependent youth.

- a. Ensuring consistent availability of qualified MFLC personnel and services through effective workforce management, flexible staffing strategies, and timely fulfillment of the required MFLC assignments, while maintaining an operational bench of licensed, cleared, and credentialed counselors and support personnel to enable rapid response to emergent requirements, reduce service gaps, and sustain continuity of service care across all assignment types.

To the maximum extent practicable, the contractor shall ensure that requests are submitted in a timely manner, with enough time for Government (i.e., AAS Defense COR and MC&FP TPOC) review and concurrence. No travel or purchases shall occur without Government concurrence. Costs for travel or purchases that occur without proper Government approval will be borne by the contractor.

C.5.1.9 SUBTASK 9 – PROVIDE QUALITY MANAGEMENT

The contractor shall identify and implement its approach for providing and ensuring quality throughout its solution to meet the requirements of the contract. The contractor shall provide a Quality Management Plan (QMP) and maintain and update it as changes in the program processes are identified (Section F, Deliverable TBD). The contractor's QMP shall describe the application of the appropriate methodology (e.g., quality control and/or quality assurance) for accomplishing contract performance expectations and objectives. The QMP shall describe how the appropriate methodology integrates with the Government's requirements.

C.5.1.10 SUBTASK 10 – PROVIDE MFLC PROGRAM DATA CAPTURE AND REPORTING

The contractor shall capture established data elements for each participant serviced, consultation performed, or outreach activity executed per the MFLC Program Data Dictionary and shall report these elements at least daily. MFLCs shall report activity data within 24 hours of reportable activities. The contractor shall ensure data accuracy and consistency with the MFLC Program Data Dictionary at all times.

The MFLC Program Data Dictionary is the established set of data elements that describe the field, value, and format to be collected by the MFLC in the performance of all activities.

Below is a list of requirements for each report:

- a. MFLC Activity Record - Raw Data Files (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Monthly compilation of daily MFLC Activity Records derived from MFLC Program Data Dictionary elements (Section J, Attachment TBD).
- b. MFLC Deficiency Report (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Validation of status of fulfillment for each assigned Unique Numerical Identifier (UNI). A UNI is the unique identifier for each counselor assignment.
- c. MFLC Staffing Status Report (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Two-tab report confirming counselor qualifications, licensing, background investigations, personnel assignments, and assignment details including location, service delivery modality, installation status, and contact details.
- d. DTW and Mandatory Report Summary (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Record of all DTW and Mandatory Report occurrences.
- e. Adverse Incident Report (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Immediate notification of adverse MFLC activity that could negatively impact the MFLC Program.
- f. Adverse Incident Log (Section F, Deliverable TBD): Monthly summary of all Adverse Incidents submitted.
- g. MFLC Monthly Data Roll-Up Summary (Section F, Deliverable TBD).

In special circumstances, the contractor may be required to provide additional data and documentation that will not disclose counseling session contents. The contractor shall immediately provide concerns regarding additional documentation requests to the AAS Defense COR, MFLC TPOC, and MFLC PM. The contractor shall provide requested data and documents in a highly responsive, flexible, and timely manner. Data for mandatory reports shall be maintained for the contract life and six years thereafter per Government retention requirements. The contractor shall also support ad-hoc data requests (Section F, Deliverable TBD) critical for program decision-making, which may be required within hours for urgent requests or longer timeframes for comprehensive reports.

The contractor shall ensure that activity data is captured consistently IAW the MFLC Program Data Dictionary fields and definitions. The MFLC shall report activity data in the MFLC Activity Record within 24 hours of reportable activities. The contractor shall ensure MFLCs are reporting activity detail for each interaction to a level compliant with the MFLC Program Data Dictionary (e.g., reporting data accurately verses inaccurately to avoid having to spend more time filling out additional fields).

The data captured on the Operational Compliance Reports includes the data fields described in the MFLC Program Data Dictionary. The contractor shall ensure that the data contained within the records and reports are accurate and consistent with the MFLC Program Data Dictionary and Operational Compliance Report completion instructions at all times.

The MFLC Program Data Dictionary is regularly reviewed by the Government and data elements, fields, values, and descriptions may be updated, modified, added, or deleted in order to support the MFLC PMO or higher-level requirements. All updates to the MFLC Program Data Dictionary, Operational Compliance Reports, or additional one-time and/or regular recurring reports will be incorporated via contract modification. The contractor shall incorporate these changes into its data capture and reporting procedures to match the updated MFLC Program Data Dictionary, Operational Compliance Reports, or other one-time or recurring reports. The implementation of these changes/updates will begin on the first day of the month following the contract modification or as determined by the MFLC PM.

C.5.1.11 SUBTASK 11 – VIRTUAL COUNSELING SUPPORT CAPABILITIES

The contractor shall provide virtual counseling support as a component of the counseling services under this contract. All counselors shall have the necessary equipment, training, and readiness to deliver services through both in-person and virtual modalities. The contractor shall ensure a seamless transition between service delivery methods without interrupting participant care, using Government-approved Video Teleconferencing (VTC)/telepresence platforms that maintain privacy, security, and confidentiality. Virtual services shall meet the same quality and effectiveness standards as in-person services and adhere to professional counseling standards and relevant state and Federal regulations.

The contractor shall ensure that all virtual counseling platforms and associated data systems comply with the Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA) Security Technical Implementation Guides (STIGs) and Security Requirements Guides (SRGs). This includes implementing documented access controls, comprehensive intrusion detection and prevention, and malware protection. The contractor shall develop and maintain system documentation (Section F, Deliverable TBD), including data flow diagrams, architecture guides, and SOPs for the virtual counseling technology infrastructure.

The contractor's responsibilities include:

- a. Developing and maintaining a Virtual Services Support Plan (Section F, Deliverable TBD) that outlines SOPs, communication protocols, DTW procedures for virtual environments, technology security requirements, and quality assurance measures.
- b. Ensuring all counseling personnel are equipped and trained to maintain proficiency in approved virtual counseling platforms.
- c. Notifying the MFLC PM, AAS Defense COR, and MFLC TPOC in writing within 24 hours of any condition affecting service delivery capability and implementing virtual service delivery within 48 hours of Government direction or operational requirement.

C.5.1.12 SUBTASK 12 – GOVERNMENT POINT OF CONTACT (POC) COMMUNICATION AND COORDINATION

Effective communication and coordination between MFLCs, MFLC Supervisors, and installation POCs is required to ensure seamless service delivery and alignment with the specific needs of each location. The contractor shall initiate coordination with the Government POC at each installation within 24 hours once a SADL has been issued and request for service has been approved through the Government-owned IT system. The contractor shall not provide a dedicated resource without prior coordination with the Government installation POC and without verification and validation of the specific needs of the location the POC supports. The contractor shall maintain direct lines of communications with the POC to ensure that the POC is aware at all times of the MFLC's movements through all staffing phases (e.g., identification of a resource, status as MFLC moves through the security in-processing, expected start date, and departure date). The contractor shall maintain these lines of communication with the POC at all times for both new and current assignments at the POC's specific location.

The contractor shall maintain consistent communication (i.e., at least once a month) with installation POCs throughout the duration of the MFLC's assignment to discuss location needs, assignment coordination, opportunities for MFLC support, and feedback on MFLC performance. Further, the contractor shall provide updates to POCs on staffing, trends, crisis response (when applicable), special projects, initiatives, and other relevant matters to ensure that all installation needs are continuously addressed and met. This contact occurs in person or by phone or email.

To ensure ongoing communication every month, the contractor shall also send a formal document to the POCs that provides the status of staffing and trend summaries (Section F, Deliverable TBD). Included in this communication will be a POC satisfaction questionnaire.

For school assignments, the contractor shall contact the POCs in advance of the start of each school year to coordinate logistics and review program scope and expectations. Regular contact will be maintained with important school stakeholders, including School Liaison Officers, Principal, and Assistant Principals.

Once providing services, the MFLC shall maintain daily communication with the designated installation POCs, providing updates such as sign-in and sign-out times and daily operational activities.

SECTION C – PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

The contractor shall ensure that all coordination with the POC is transparent to the MFLC PM. For any situation where the contractor is having communication/coordination issues with the POC, it shall be reported to the MFLC PM in a timely manner to ensure appropriate direct involvement. MFLC services shall be complementary and supportive of the POC's program and meet the needs of the installation.

C.5.1.13 SUBTASK 13 – ADMINISTER CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES (CONUS) AND OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES (OCONUS) LOGISTICAL SUPPORT

The contractor shall be responsible for maintaining logistical support to ensure an efficient and effective staffing resource that is properly prepared to start providing support the day the MFLC arrives on location. This logistical support includes ensuring that the MFLC has passed all security and background checks, is qualified and properly certified to provide services to the eligible participants, understands the MFLC Program scope and requirements, and has all the resources and tools available to begin providing services and meet data collection and reporting requirements of the contract. The contractor shall coordinate all activities (e.g., security in-processing, required local training) with local POCs at assigned worksites, ensuring that all contractor assignments are executed on schedule and IAW all required directives and local procedures.

In addition, for OCONUS locations, the contractor shall be responsible for understanding and fully complying with the applicable DoW directives for temporary or long-term OCONUS deployed personnel. The contractor shall coordinate all activities with the local Government personnel at the assigned worksite to ensure all contractor deployments are executed on schedule and IAW all required directives. The logistical support shall include direct assistance with all actions required to deploy contractor personnel to deployable operational areas. The contractor shall remain aware of all deployment requirements with an evolving OCONUS environment to ensure all deployment requirements are met at all times. These OCONUS logistical support requirements are further detailed in Section H, TBD.

For CONUS public school locations (i.e., Non-DoW Education Activity (Non-DoWEA)), the contractor may be required to complete an MOU with the specific local school system. MOUs are not required for all schools; they are usually specific to certain school districts. MOUs are updated annually, and some MOUs may have insurance requirements. A sample MOU is provided in Section J, Attachment TBD. Current MOU requirements are provided in Section J, Attachment TBD. When possible, locations requiring MOUs will be highlighted in advance by the Government, but as part of its logistical efforts, the contractor shall work with the local Government POCs to understand all potential locations where an MOU is required. The contractor shall ensure that MOUs are completed appropriately to comply with the requirements of this contract and DoW policies. Should an MOU conflict with this contract or DoW policy, the contractor shall immediately notify the MFLC TPOC and AAS Defense COR prior to executing the MOU.

C.5.1.14 SUBTASK 14 – MFLC PROGRAM SPECIFIC TRAINING AND PROGRAM INITIATIVES

Throughout the period of performance, the MFLC PM may require all MFLCs to undergo and conduct training that complements the MFLC Program's execution. This training will be funded by the MFLC Program through approved processes outlined in Section H of the contract. The contractor is responsible for managing, executing, and supporting MFLC Program-specific training requirements as communicated by the MFLC PM. The contractor can expect one to three required virtual or in-person trainings annually, which will be considered part of non-traditional work hours for reporting and billing purposes. The contractor shall maintain and report data related to this program-specific training, including pass/failure rates and responses to specific questions (Section F, Deliverable TBD).

Task Order Request (Fill in PIID Number)

SECTION C – PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

The contractor shall develop and maintain a comprehensive training program and methodology for contractor staff, including subcontractors, to support the MFLC Program's goals (Section TBD, Deliverable TBD). The training program shall ensure that all staff are current on military service-specific matters, understand military terminology, and are familiar with evolving issues affecting military members and their families. The contractor shall incorporate data-driven, evidence-based content into the training program, which shall be approved by the MFLC PM, TPOC, and AAS COR prior to implementation or updates.

As part of their duties, MFLCs may be required to participate in initiatives, studies, and pilot programs as directed by the MFLC PM. These programs may be in response to congressional mandates, efficiencies, or other directives within the scope of this contract. The contractor shall provide management support for these initiatives, including but not limited to coordination of study requirements, knowledge management support, logistical and liaison coordination with treatment facilities or CDC POCs, and developing summary-level briefings, analysis, and resultant reports. MFLCs assigned to these pilot positions may receive assignment-specific training prior to reporting.

C.5.1.15 SUBTASK 15 – ADVERSE INCIDENT MANAGEMENT

Due to the nature of the MFLC requirement, overall program sensitivity, and the need for the MFLC PM to maintain complete awareness to execute its mission, the contractor shall maintain awareness and properly report Adverse Incidents related to the performance of MFLCs under this contract through appropriate and approved procedures.

Adverse Incidents, in the context of this contract, include a range of events and situations involving MFLCs that may cause harm or injury to a participant or reflect poor judgement, performance, and/or unsatisfactory conduct by an MFLC. Adverse Incidents also include actions that negatively impact the DoW through media attention, including suicide, homicide, serious harm or injury, and any other event or situation that may reflect negatively on the MFLC Program. For the purpose of this contract, Adverse Incidents are limited to those involving MFLCs who are performing under the contract at the time of the incident occurrence.

In the event of an Adverse Incident related to an MFLC's performance or conduct under this contract, the contractor shall follow prescribed policies and procedures listed in the MFLC Adverse Incident Report (Section J, Attachment TBD) for compliance review and submit the report to the MFLC PM, MFLC TPOC, AAS Defense COR, and the AAS Defense CO immediately (i.e., NLT 24 hours of becoming aware of the situation) (Section F, Deliverable TBD). The contractor shall provide the Adverse Incident data elements (Section J, Attachment TBD - MFLC Program Adverse Incident Report).

Following receipt of the Adverse Incident Report, the Government will review all reported Adverse Incidents, conduct an investigation, and provide a determination with a recommended course of action (if applicable) within ten calendar days of the incident being reported. At the Government's discretion, all contractor personnel associated with the adverse incident under investigation may be temporarily stood-down from the MFLC assignment and worksite pending a determination. The reasoning for temporary stand-down may vary by location but may be due to an Adverse Incident (i.e., failed background investigation, improper relationship, improper conduct such as touching, hitting, or grabbing) or an MFLC arrested for offenses depicted in DoDI 1402.05. The contractor shall follow program and school reporting procedures for MFLC child abuse allegations. Under certain circumstances, installation POCs may request a temporary stand-down while the investigation is pending.

In its investigation, the MFLC PMO will review the facts and determine if the MFLC remains suitable for performance on this contract, if the MFLC shall be removed from contract performance, or if additional training is required. The investigation will be conducted by the MFLC PM, MFLC TPOC, and MC&FP Adjudications Team. Once the investigation is completed, the AAS Defense CO or COR will provide notification in writing to the contractor of the determination.

The only role the AAS Defense CO and the COR have in the investigation process is to notify to the contractor of the determination. The contractor shall execute the determination, and at no time shall the contractor enter into negotiations with any installation personnel relative to the removal of an MFLC. The contractor agrees that any request by the Government for the removal of an MFLC from contract performance is a direction to the contractor regarding its obligation to provide suitable personnel for contract execution and is not an employment directive or an action affecting the MFLC's employment status with the contractor. The contractor maintains sole and exclusive authority and responsibility for all employment decisions concerning its employees, including but not limited to hiring, reassignment, or termination. This contract is for non-personal services, the contractor is an independent contractor and not an agent of the Government, and no employer-employee relationship is created or implied between the Government and any contractor personnel under this contract.

C.5.1.16 SUBTASK 16 – TRANSITION-IN

The contractor shall provide a Transition-In Plan (Section F, Deliverable TBD). The contractor shall implement its Transition-In Plan NLT 10 calendar days after award, and all transition activities shall be completed 120 calendar days after Project Start (PS).

The incoming contractor staff shall work with incumbent contractors, the MFLC PM, and local POCs to provide for smooth operational turnover and minimize the impact on the MFLC Program and participants under which the MFLCs provide services. This includes warm hand-offs for incumbent MFLCs working with participants so that the impact to participants is minimized. Participants will be actively seeking/receiving counseling sessions during this time. The contractor shall minimize any disruption to the participants and their ability to receive a counseling session during the transition-in phase of this contract.

Transition-in shall begin immediately at the time of contract award. The contractor shall gain and maintain access to critical applications which enable performance as well as complete all applicable documentation (e.g., security, SOFA, TBC, Personnel, MOUs, Government IT system approvals) to support the requirement to have MFLCs in place by the end of the transition-in period. The contractor shall provide a Final Transition-In Plan and receive Government approval

(Section F, Deliverable TBD). The contractor shall fully execute the Final Transition-In Plan and activities NLT 10 days after PS and provide a Transition-In Completion Report (Section F, Deliverable TBD) NLT 120 days after contract award that details full operational capability of responsibility of its respective footprint and specified locations. The Transition-In Completion report shall provide current staff assignments, outstanding gaps/vacancies, and any outstanding issues regarding transition-in activities.

The Transition-In Plan shall ensure that there will be minimal service disruption among all MFLC assignment types during and after transition; this includes ensuring that warm hand-offs between MFLC assignments have taken place.

Specifically, the contractor's Transition-In Plan shall detail:

- a. A comprehensive schedule depicting the transition activities and milestones for accomplishing transition activities.
- b. Identification of proactive mitigation strategies to reduce risk in critical areas (e.g., staffing, OCONUS considerations, security clearances).
- c. Knowledge transfer plans, materials, and activities.
- d. Data management planning activities in order to address daily reporting requirements for MFLCs.
- e. Minimizing disruptions in staffing school assignments (i.e., CYB schools) in both CONUS and OCONUS locations.
- f. Staffing OCONUS locations that require DOCPER and SOFA agreements (see Section H).

OCONUS support to countries such as Germany, Italy, and Korea are coordinated through the SOFA/DOCPER or current Government authoritative system.

The contractor shall execute its approved Final Transition-In Plan within the milestones, decision gates, and submission and approval timelines of all actions for successful transition-in. The contractor shall update the Final Transition-In Plan throughout the transition-in period. Based on the contractor's approved Final Transition-In Plan, the SADL assignment start date(s) would coincide with the approved Final Transition-In Plan that has been coordinated with the MFLC PM. No assignment shall be staffed until the contractor has received an approved SADL.

C.5.1.17 SUBTASK 17 – TRANSITION-OUT

The contractor shall provide transition-out support when required by the Government. The Transition-Out Plan shall facilitate the accomplishment of a seamless transition from the incumbent to incoming contractor/Government personnel at the expiration of the contract. The contractor shall provide a Transition-Out Plan (Section F, Deliverable TBD). The contractor shall review and update the Transition-Out Plan IAW the specifications in Sections TBD.

In the Transition-Out Plan, the contractor shall identify how it will coordinate with the incoming contractor and/or Government personnel to transfer knowledge regarding the following:

- a. Project management processes.
- b. POCs.
- c. Location of technical and project management documentation.

- d. Ongoing technical initiatives status, including coordination with the incoming contractor and/or Government concerning MOUs.
- e. Appropriate contractor-to-contractor or contractor-to-Government coordination to ensure a seamless transition.
- f. Transition of Key Personnel roles and responsibilities.
- g. Schedules and milestones.
- h. Actions required of the Government.

The contractor shall also establish and maintain effective communication with the incoming contractor/Government personnel for the period of the transition via weekly status meetings or as often as necessary to ensure a seamless transition-out.

The contractor shall implement its Transition-Out Plan NLT six months prior to expiration of the contract.

IAW Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) 52.222-41 (GSA Class Deviation RFO-2025-22), the contractor shall submit a Seniority List NLT ten workdays prior to the completion of the contract (Section F, Deliverable TBD).

C.5.2 TASK 2 – PROVIDE PRIMARY MFLC SERVICES

Primary MFLC services encompass providing MFLC support to eligible Adult and CYB participants on an ongoing basis at a designated location.

Assignments for primary MFLC services require a significant commitment, with counselors performing services at assigned locations for a minimum of 12 months. Beyond this initial period, MFLCs may continue performing services in these locations to build strong rapport and provide sustained continuity of care. For example, MFLC school assignments typically span between nine to 12 months; however, the same MFLC may provide continuous support to the same school after the initial assignment (i.e., returning after summer breaks).

C.5.2.1 SUBTASK 1 – PROVIDE ADULT MFLC SERVICES

The contractor shall ensure that credentialed and licensed MFLCs (meeting the criteria in Section H) are available to provide preventative support services to military members and their adult family members. These services will address issues specific to the military experience and will be delivered by MFLCs with the necessary technical skills and understanding of the military environment.

These issues include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Relationship issues (e.g., workplace, marital, significant other, family, child, friend).
- b. Communication skills.
- c. Mobilization.
- d. Deployment.
- e. Reunion adjustments.
- f. Frequent relocations.
- g. Relocation adjustment.

The contractor shall conduct audits per current DoW regulations for counselors' license compliance with the applicable regulatory board and DoW Background Investigation and Adverse Incidents IAW MFLC Section H contract requirements. The contractor shall stand down any counselor within a timeframe IAW DoD Regulations, MFLC Section H contract requirements, and/or NLT 24 hours of discovering non-compliance. The contractor shall inform the Government of its findings and update Government reports.

C.5.2.2 SUBTASK 2 – PROVIDE CYB MFLC SUPPORT SERVICES

The contractor shall provide CYB MFLC support services for school rotations, CDCs, and youth centers which cover the entire academic year, ranging from 9 to 12 months. The contractor shall ensure CYB MFLCs are credentialed, licensed, and have the appropriate skills to support this requirement. The contractor shall maintain knowledge for CYB MFLCs to ensure an understanding of the issues military children face and shall provide counseling, consultation, and outreach support to meet their individual needs.

The contractor shall coordinate with installation POCs on assignments to a school before the academic school year. MFLCs assigned to a school shall not remain on the installation or provide services during school recesses or breaks (e.g., Thanksgiving, winter, spring, and summer) unless approved by the MFLC PM or assigned to a separate camp via the Government-owned IT system. The MFLC PM will make every effort to identify the assignments within non-DoWEA schools and associated children's educational institutions where the contractor may be required to enter into an MOU.

CYB MFLCs shall remain in the line of sight of child/youth participant(s)' parent, guardian, or an individual with purview over the child (e.g., school principal, Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) Director, or CDC Program, Director, or Teacher).

The contractor shall ensure that CYB MFLCs have the applicable experience and expertise to work with the identified age of the participants in all youth programs, CDCs, schools, or camps in which the CYB MFLCs are assigned. The contractor shall ensure that CYB MFLCs are current on all immunizations recommended for adults by the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) of the Centers for Disease Task Order Request (Fill in PIID Number) Control and Prevention. Contractors shall confirm written documentation of immunizations and provide verification to the MFLC PM as outlined in Section H.

The contractor shall provide CYB MFLCs for in-person, confidential MFLC services to age-appropriate military children and youth. CYB MFLCs supporting schools and child and youth programs are required by military regulations to disclose safety concerns including sexual behaviors. CYB MFLCs may have the need to share information about the children they are supporting as part of interdisciplinary teams with the explicit purpose of supporting the child's success and to ensure a comprehensive continuum of care. The CYB MFLCs shall obtain written parental consent for all child participants under the age of 18 prior to providing counseling services with the exception of DTW or Mandated Report situations.

CYB MFLCs may be required to follow the specific confidential counseling policy of the institution (e.g., school) where services are provided. This is particularly relevant when supporting children and/or youth who seek support services but prefer to receive services in a private setting rather than a typical public location (e.g., lunchroom, public library, or other variation of line of sight).

CYB MFLCs provide military children and youth, families, caregivers, early childhood development staff, and administrators with coping mechanisms through difficult situations. CYB MFLCs provide services through multi-level intervention (e.g., classroom, family, school, community) while understanding the potential contextual and cultural factors impacting young children's behavior.

These counseling, consultation, and outreach services encompass but are not limited to:

- a. Collaborate with teachers, parents, and administrators in order to promote the healthy development of child and youths' social-emotional competencies and capacities.
- b. Address challenging behaviors.
- c. Work alongside the program staff and school professionals in their daily settings.

- h. Confer with teachers, CDC providers, parents, and children regarding disruptive classroom behavior.
- i. Work with teachers and youth in the classrooms to get to know the needs of teachers and students.
- j. Interact with children and parents during special events, field days, lunch hours, award luncheons, sports events, and other common areas.
- k. Utilize approved materials with younger children to address applicable issues.
- l. Help children prepare for life when the parent is gone.
- m. Support students exhibiting challenging classroom behavior who are referred by school guidance counselors.
- n. Provide outreach services to parents during parent/teacher conferences.
- o. Conduct classroom observations with teacher permission to support a participant's needs.

- q. Address school behavior problems.
- r. Resolve student conflict.
- s. Provide support to eligible MFLC child participants during transition periods to help with adjustments to new settings/locations and help manage the normal stress as a reaction to this process.
- t. Work closely with Wounded Warrior transition programs to help children/families cope with stressors and experiences because of a service members' injury or disability.
- u. Interact with children and parents from the larger military community during special events, parent groups, and center activities (e.g., weekend basketball or soccer at the youth center).
- v. Work with children in classroom settings, group activities, or individually in CDCs, chapel youth groups, youth centers, and teen groups.
- w. Conduct observations for military dependents in various settings, including classrooms and camps, and provide concrete support to caregivers and trainers to address and redirect challenging behaviors.

The CYB MFLCs may tailor their activities to address specific goals for a certain child or youth, family, classroom, or program. CYB MFLC services shall be responsive to specific factors such as the population served, reflecting the values and mission of the MFLC Program for the duration of the counselor's relationship with the early care and education programs. Depending on the age of the child or youth, the CYB MFLCs may be required to provide services to adults (including parents) on behalf of children and youth in child development programs, schools, and pediatric care settings.

The contractor shall conduct audits per current DoW regulations for counselors' license compliance with the applicable regulatory board and DoW Background Investigation and Adverse Incidents IAW MFLC Section H contract requirements. The contractor shall stand down any counselor within a timeframe IAW DoD Regulations, MFLC Section H contract requirements, and/or NLT 24 hours of discovering non-compliance. The contractor shall inform the Government of its findings and update Government reports.

C.5.2.3 SUBTASK 3 – PREPARE AND PROVIDE MFLC SERVICES EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS, PRESENTATIONS, BRIEFINGS, AND CONSULTATIONS

In support of the overall contract and at the request of the MFLC PM, the MFLC contractor shall develop or modify a variety of educational materials, displays, and presentations on specific subject areas (e.g., relationships, deployment and reintegration, coping with separation, loss and grief, effects of deployment on children, communication, and compassion fatigue/caring for the caregiver (Section F, Deliverable TBD)). The MFLC PM shall review and approve all materials developed under this subtask, formats, and delivery timeframes prior to dissemination/distribution. All printing shall be IAW the Joint Committee on Printing and the Government Printing Office guidelines, and through approvals mandated under this contract, if applicable.

If an installation POC would like a briefing or presentation to be used by an MFLC that differs from what is available in the library, the installation POC or designated POC will submit a complete request through the chain of command to the service headquarters for review and submission to the MFLC PM at least ten business days in advance of the requested briefing date, detailing how the briefing or presentation differs from what is available in the library. If the contractor identifies a topic or an update to an existing presentation, these recommendations shall be submitted to the MFLC PM for review and approval.

The contractor shall provide outreach services by meeting with family readiness groups, meeting service members returning from deployments (e.g., welcome events at respective airports), being available in reintegration orientations, meeting with rear detachment commanders and other community agency staff, and briefing commanders and leadership upon request.

The MFLCs shall perform the traditional and non-traditional walk-around services within this task and establish a visible and accessible location to distribute MFLC Program-related educational materials. The MFLCs shall distribute a variety of MFLC Program-related educational materials, including those developed by the contractor and approved by the MFLC PM and those provided by the MFLC PM.

All printing shall be IAW the Joint Committee on Printing and the Government Printing Office guidelines, and through approvals mandated under this contract, if applicable.

The contractor shall ensure MFLCs are trained as effective presenters with facilitation skills geared towards the military community. The MFLC shall perform outreach service activities and conduct informational sessions for applicable installation personnel and/or eligible participants to provide general information about the MFLC Program and the availability of MFLC services. These activities may include conducting group or individual presentations/briefings to participants, applicable installation, children, and personnel.

The MFLCs shall provide support to the applicable installation personnel where and when a need arises. These services include preparing and conducting informational or counseling sessions to assist installation staff to facilitate, navigate, and properly engage with the ongoing life conditions of personnel who engage MFLC adult, child, and youth participants.

These services encompass targeting an outside group with a larger organizational role and include but are not limited to:

The contractor shall provide support services for pilot program initiatives and studies (e.g., studies for counseling effectiveness) and support analysis/studies about the MFLC Program. This may include providing additional data and/or support services within settings such as MTFs or CDCs. Support services may range from supporting small-scale initiatives involving a few MFLCs to supporting large-scale programs requiring implementation by all MFLCs, and it may require OCONUS deployments or travel outside of normal duty assignments. Pilot program initiatives and studies may support congressional mandates, efficiencies, or other directives within the scope of this contract.

Pilot program initiatives and study requests may come from several sources, including Executive Orders, MC&FP leadership, the military services, and other DoW programs. These priorities are always evolving; for example, a program might be implemented and then discontinued within the same year due to lack of need or removal of funding. The MFLC Program shall remain flexible to meet these fluctuating initiative and study needs. Further, the current climate and demand often test the limits of the MFLC contract, requiring the program to be flexible enough to support the needs while staying within the program's scope.

Examples of pilot program initiatives and studies include:

- a. Wellness checks (Army requested). The Army asked for MFLCs to conduct 20-minute wellness checks (screening).
- b. Participating in research studies for counseling effectiveness and program analysis.
- c. Targeted Care. A partnership with the Defense Health Agency (DHA) implemented to ensure that participants are vectored to the appropriate level of care.
- d. Mental Health App. This is an example of a pilot that was implemented and then deactivated.
- e. Virtual support to isolated and unique populations, such as Embassy staff and recruiters.

- a. Unplanned events:
 1. Natural disaster(s).
 2. Response to a major critical need event (e.g., terrorist incident or other major event impacting a place of performance such as DoW bases or schools).
- b. Planned events:
 1. An emerging need that requires additional support.
 2. Support leading up to pre-deployment, deployment, or post-deployment.
 3. Other military events and ceremonies which may vary in size but are typically attended by groups of 35 or more people.

Unplanned events are typically on very short notice with response times as little as hours, and include unplanned military, military community, and/or school events or incidents (e.g., car accident involving a student or family member).

Unit representatives or event POCs will utilize the Government-owned IT system to request short-term MFLC services, which shall be approved by the MFLC PMO. MFLC assignments are primarily installation-based, but may include off-installation schools, recruiting stations, and similar off-base military and civilian facilities. The contractor shall respond with staffing information to the Government through the Government-owned IT system IAW timelines in Section C.3.4. Please note that if the contractor cannot provide a response within timelines provided in Section C.3.4, the contractor does not require Government approval to continue staffing the assignment. For example, some camps are specifically for the children of wounded, disabled, or fallen service members, while others are for children of parents who have been or are currently deployed. Beyond traditional summer camps, there are also family retreats designed to help families reconnect and deal with deployment-related stress. Other offerings include educational programs and camps that provide K-12 schooling for military-connected children globally. Many of these programs are run by organizations such as the National Military Family Association, and some are directly affiliated with branches of the military, including the National Guard and U.S. Special Operations Command (SOCOM).
