“Questions From Industry”

Amendment 0001

The purpose of this amendment is to answer Vendors Questions and Answers:

Question 1: We are currently reviewing the licensing structure related to your requirement for Veeam Backup and Replication licenses and would appreciate your clarification to ensure accurate alignment with your needs.

Our understanding from the initial request is that thirty (30) licenses are required. However, based on the licensing model provided by the supplier, one Veeam license allows backup coverage for up to five (5) instances (such as virtual machines or physical servers).

In light of this, we kindly request your confirmation on whether your requirement refers specifically to thirty (30) individual licenses, or alternatively to coverage for thirty (30) instances.

Additionally, regarding warranty and support coverage, the supplier confirmed that the offered licensing is subscription-based. Each one-year subscription includes 24/7 Production Support for the duration of the active subscription. This includes software updates, upgrades, security patches, and full technical assistance. To obtain the four (4) additional years of coverage originally requested, you must renew the subscription annually during those option years to maintain continuous support.

Answer 1: Please proceed with quote with the information that was given on the initial solicitation as is. The information below details the correct number of instances which were confirmed w/ the OEM and customer.
